

The Top Trends in Lamination for 2016

As a trusted contract and toll manufacturer, Sierra Coating Technologies oftentimes works with brand owners and commercial printers on product development projects. As a result, Sierra's coating and lamination experts are in the forefront of taking new ideas and bringing them to market.

To help brand owners stay ahead of the curve, our team has compiled the top three lamination trends for 2016. Get the details for this year's trends in laminations by downloading our 2016 Lamination Trends Report.

Insider Tip: There's a major trend towards sustainability and recyclability! Learn how you can implement eco-friendly packaging for your product by downloading the trends report.